

Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary Parish

Hello friends,

First, I have to apologize – right about 10:47 last Saturday I was at the Diocesan Center kicking myself and saying, “why didn’t I broadcast this?” The event in question was our summer seminarian John Francis’ Rite of Candidacy – a significant moment in a seminarian’s formation when he declares his intention, all things being equal, to continue in seminary formation to ordination and when the Diocese declares its blessing, all things being equal, for the seminarian to do just that. By analogy, it’s much like engagement – as a man and woman date and build interest and understanding and love for each other, there eventually comes the point when they say “I intend to marry you.” In a similar way, “candidacy” is a bit like moving from dating to engagement, except on the way to priesthood. Of course, engagements can end, and after a seminarian becomes a Candidate for ordination he or the Diocese can still back out, but there’s a different gravity that comes after such an intention (engagement or candidacy) is declared. I recall my own Rite of Candidacy back in 2016 or 17 – it was one of a few pivotal moments in my formation and approach toward priesthood (2020) that bore a significant weight and emotional charge. I don’t think I understood that Moment then as well as I do now, and it was a real blessing to be present at this moment for John. The part I was kicking myself about was not making all this known beforehand for you to come and participate too. Anyway, if you make contact with John wish him happy engagement.

Second, we’re coming up on Christmas in just a few days here. Thank you for walking so earnestly through the last three weeks of Advent – I think Christmas done well is just like a graduation party or an anniversary date night done well – the event will still happen with little planning, but with big planning and intention it draws out the bigness of the day that much more. So thank you for leaning into the season. We’ve got a few schedule adjustments coming up for Christmas (and the Solemnity of Mary, Mother of God the next week). For Christmas, our schedule starts on Christmas Eve: 4:00 in Coon Valley, 6:30 in (continued on page 2)
